House Refuses To Deliver Tax Bill To Senate Until Monday

House Defeats Both Plans For Roads Program

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—The House voted today against both Democratic and Republican plans for a huge program of highway construction.

Democratic and Republican spokesmen agreed this means highway legislation is dead for the year. "Probably for the next year, too," added Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.).

Democratic Bill Beaten

It was something of a surprise that the House voted down 292-123 a Democratic leadership-sponsored measure which would have helped pay construction costs through $12,425,000,000 in added automotive taxes over the next 16 years.

Also defeated, 221-193 along party lines, was a Republican substitute containing President Eisenhower's plan. That would have helped raise money through 21 billion dollars worth of 30-year bonds.

The biggest cause for the upset of the Democratic bill, most congressmen seemed to agree, was the tax increases it would have placed on the trucking industry.

Thousands of letters and telegrams have been pouring in on the law makers protesting the measure.

Passage Expected

Offered by Rep. Fallon (D-Md.), it was approved by the House Public Works Committee, and only this morning Rayburn predicted it would pass the House.

The Democratic bill would have raised three-fourths of its money by boosting from 2 to 3 cents a gallon the federal tax on gasoline. It would also have upped from 5 to 15 cents a pound the federal levy on truck-size tires and tubes, and imposed other tax hikes that would have hit truck operators primarily.

Rep. Steed (D-Okla.) said that of 9,400,000 trucks of all kinds in the country, eight million were not in the freight business "and they were the ones doing this squawking."

"You're stepping on the toes of too many little people," he added. "They were squawking because they thought it was an unfair tax."

No One Will Pay

House Democratic Leader McCormack, of Massachusetts, commented: "The answer is everybody wants a road bill and no one wants to pay for it."

Rayburn based his pessimism about chances for a road bill even in 1956 on the obvious split over financing.

9 Americans Among 59 On Crashed Plane

ATHENS, Greece, July 27 (AP)—An Israeli airliner crashed in Red Bulgaria today after radioing: "We are going down in flames. Trying forced landing."

At least four Americans and five Soviet citizens were among the 51 passengers aboard the four-engine Constellation. It carried a crew of seven.

In New York the Israeli airline issued a passenger list naming nine as "believed to be U. S. citizens or residents" but giving no home addresses. They were Mrs. Rella Avram, Mrs. O. Cohen, a Mr. Hamel, Mrs. A. Hain, A. Mann, a Mrs. Shaffer, R. Sacks, Mrs. A. Sacks, Mrs. D. Sacks.

Cause In Doubt

Greek authorities said Bulgarian antiaircraft guns shot down the plane. But a Greek soldier who witnessed the incident from across the nearby Greek-Bulgarian frontier was quoted as saying he was not 100 per cent certain that the explosion did not come from inside the plane.

The soldier, whose account was released by the Greek 3rd Army Corps headquarters, said he saw two figures jump from the airliner and one parachute opened. (Parachutes are not normally carried in big commercial airliners.)

The soldier said he heard an explosion before the crash and thought it was the booming of Bulgarian antiaircraft guns firing at the plane but was not sure.

The earlier Greek government statement was based on observations made by soldiers of the 10th Greek Army Division in Macedonia.

Toll Commission Probe Approved

HARRISBURG, July 27 (AP)—The House today authorized a thorough investigation of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

A resolution calling for study of the agency's operation, administration and financial policies was adopted on a voice vote after a short debate. Republicans opposed the plan.

$5 Increase Voted In Compensation

HARRISBURG, July 27 (AP)—The House tonight passed, 178-1, an administration-backed proposal to increase workmen's compensation payments from $32.50 a week to $37.50.

The only no vote was cast by Rep. Harry Naugle (R-Somerset).

The measure now goes to the Senate.

More than 200 changes would be made in both laws that apply to workers injured on the job or those who suffer diseases because of their work. Gov. Leader contends they will "give Pennsylvania a reasonable yet liberal compensation act and place Pennsylvania's law among the best 10 in the United States."

Increases Outlined

Some of the major changes would increase $5 to $37.50 a week in maximum weekly benefits for total disability; a boost from $23 to $33.50 weekly in maximum payments for partial disability; lengthen to life the length of time a worker is entitled to benefits, if the disability lasts that long; broaden the range of occupational diseases from chiefly anthrax-silicosis (miner's asthma) and asbestosis to any disease peculiar to an industry; extend from 120 days to 6 months the time an employer must pay for medical care; substantially increase the number of persons covered, and simplify claims procedure.

Various estimates of the cost to employers in higher insurance rates to pay for the liberalization range from 15 to 30 per cent.

Contempt Charges Against Lamont Are Discharged

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—Contempt of the Senate charges against Corliss Lamont and two other men were thrown out of court today. The trio had defied Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) during his 1953 probe of Communists in defense posts.

Federal District Judge Edward Weinfeld said that to sustain such an indictment, it must show that McCarthy had proper congressional authority to conduct such an inquiry.

Weinfeld did not himself rule on the question of McCarthy's authority. He merely said the indictment had failed to raise any such argument. Said the judge in his decision:

"This indictment is barren of any allegation or fact from which the authority of the permanent subcommittee to conduct the inquiry can be ascertained."

Lamont, in his defense, had claimed the McCarthy committee never had any legal authorization from the Senate for its investigations.

Agree On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—Senate-House conferees reached agreement late today on a foreign aid bill carrying about $2,700,000,000 of new funds—some half a billion dollars less than President Eisenhower requested.

Democrats Block Move To Kill Tax

HARRISBURG, July 27 (AP)—A declared plan of Senate Republicans to kill Gov. Leader's classified income tax bill this week was blocked by Democrats today.

The Democratic House leadership used the simple device of retaining actual possession of the 411 million dollar tax measure to prevent the Republican Senate majority from putting its plan into operation.

Party Line Vote

Speaker H. G. Andrews informed the House he would not deliver the controversial tax measure to the Senate until next Monday. He was supported in that position by a vote from the floor on straight party lines.

"We'll just have to wait until we get the bill," Mahany told a reporter a bit ruefully.

The House passed the income tax bill last night 108-98 with Democrats providing all the votes for it.

Mahany had announced plans for the Senate majority to give it three days' consideration—the minimum—and take a roll call vote on it on Thursday, with the 26-member GOP bloc voting solidly against it.

Shy Two Votes

Democrats have 24 votes, two short of the number required to pass a bill.

But the Democratic strategy upset the time table and the Senate adjourned until Monday, without receiving the tax bill.

Both Andrews and Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, lashed out at Republican tax policies.

Andrews said in a statement that if the Republican Senate kills the administration tax bill the only source of revenue left would be "a hodge-podge series of taxes which would inevitably fall most heavily on business in the Commonwealth."

A general sales tax, Andrews said could not get a majority in the House, adding:

Hits Sales Tax

"If the Senate (Republican) leadership believes it can pressure this House into passing a sales tax, that leadership is greatly mistaken."

The Republican leadership in the Senate, Andrews said, "is planning a lynching party for the tax program of this House and of this administration."

Rep. Charles C. Smith, House Republican floor leader, used some of the harshest words of the 1955 Legislature in assailing Andrews for being a party in the delay on sending the income tax bill to the Senate.

"I think it's the duty of the Speaker (Andrews) not to play politics on the floor of the House," he said. " . . . I saw something crumble in which I had terribly high respect. Mr. Speaker, I thought you had more guts."

Charges Pressure Tactics

Smith said Andrews crumbled under the pressure of the governor and other high Democrats in banging the House to adjournment last night despite a Republican outcry.

Dent, in a speech in the Senate, said the GOP majority has given notice "it intends to sandbag Gov. Leader's tax program by what might be considered an irrational and violent abuse of legislative power."

He called for cooperation on a bipartisan basis in considering the governor's tax program and said:

"The time has come when we must act as men faced with serious responsibility and not as school-boys engaged in pointless feuding."

"I appeal once again for subordination of all political contrivances to the vastly more important demands of bi-partisan cooperation and the dispassionate solution of the tax disagreements."

Political Deadlock

JERUSALEM, July 27 (AP)—A political deadlock and even new elections turned up as possibilities in Israel today. The dilemma resulted from a rising setback for the Mapai party of elder statesman David Ben-Gurion in yesterday's parliamentary elections.

Mercury Hits Century Mark

IT WAS 100 degrees in Stroudsburg yesterday.

In Mount Pocono it got up to 90.5 degrees. The relative humidity was 42 percent.

Almost everybody agreed it was hot during the day. It was still hot last night.

At 10 p.m. the mercury stood at 82 degrees in Stroudsburg. The low for the preceding night had been 58 with an 8 a.m. reading of 68 degrees. At Mount Pocono, the low yesterday morning was 52 degrees.

Unless it rains today the prospects are for more of the same—unrelenting, unrelieved heat. Nobody—least of all the weatherman—would venture a guess last night as to when it might rain.

Some Relief Due Today

SOME RELIEF from the heat wave was promised today.

A cool Canadian air mass is headed toward Pennsylvania, preceded by scattered showers and thunderstorms.

Pittsburgh got some relief when a severe thunderstorm hit late yesterday, causing a number of flash floods and sending the thermometer down 15 degrees in less than an hour.

Buffalo, N. Y., area reported its first solid drenching in weeks.

Talbott Admits Mistake, To Give Up Partnership

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott acknowledged today he was "mistaken" in promoting his private business from the Pentagon and announced he was giving up the profitable partnership.

President Eisenhower declared he himself would decide whether Talbott has violated "a proper standard of ethics" and should leave the government. There were reports that Talbott has already resigned, but the White House denied it.

Next Step Up To Ike

These were the fast-breaking developments as the Senate Investigations subcommittee wound up its public hearing on Talbott's dual role of secretary of air and partner in a private company.

The next step is up to the President. He told a news conference shortly before the hearings ended that he wouldn't make his decision until all the facts were in.

Talbott swore to the investigating senators that, "I never used my position as secretary to pressure a living soul to give the company business."

He said he was convinced he had done nothing illegal or unethical in connection with his partnership in the Paul B. Mulligan Co., a New York management consultant outfit from which he drew $122,032 in his first two years as air secretary.

Sees His Mistake

The 63-year-old official said, however, "I now see that I was mistaken in permitting myself to make phone calls or write letters" about Mulligan company affairs.

But he said he had no idea that any sizeable defense contracts were involved in the Mulligan affairs. He said he left details to his partner, Paul B. Mulligan.

As a matter of fact, Talbott said, he became "quite angry" last January when officials of the Radio Corp. of America challenged the propriety of signing a contract with Mulligan.

It was the RCA contract which provided most of the fireworks at the hearings. Witnesses described the RCA branch involved as doing "a large volume" of defense work.

Rumors Of Ouster

When Eisenhower met with reporters today, it was in an atmosphere which had produced numerous rumors that Talbott was about to be fired.

Various possible successors were already beginning to be suggested. The Indianapolis News said Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana was being considered for the post.

Top Leaders Of East, West Plan Visits

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—The possibility opened up today that President Eisenhower may visit Russia and Soviet leaders may come to this country as part of the new free-exchange-of-visitors policy explored at the Geneva conference.

To Visit Britain

The President told a news conference that exchange visits "throughout the whole echelons of government" were discussed in informal talks between Western and Soviet leaders, though he said no definite invitations were issued.

Shortly afterward, British Prime Minister Secretary Anthony Eden announced in London that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev will visit Britain next spring. This could be the first of a series of top-level visits across the Iron Curtain.

Eisenhower also said today a foreign minister level conference—one such as Sen. George (D-Ga.) has proposed—between the United States and Communist China could result from the talks between ambassadors of the two countries starting next Monday in Geneva.

And he said he was inclined to favor letting Russian arms inspectors fly over any part of the United States, even atomic installations, if his Geneva proposal for an exchange of military blueprints between this country and the Soviet Union should be accepted.

Washington Heat

The President's meeting with newsmen was highlighted by (1) the heat, which drove many reporters to shed their jackets—for the first time in the history of White House news conferences, and (2) the Senate investigation of Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott, a long-time personal friend of the chief executive.

In a manner obviously reflecting deep concern, Eisenhower said he will decide personally whether Talbott has acted improperly and should be fired for his private business activities while a member of the Little Cabinet. In general, said the President, a government official must be completely ethical—and keep himself above suspicion.

On another domestic issue, he declared Congress will be given every fact it wants about the Dixson-Yates controversy. And, with a flash of irritation, he said in effect that he's tired of reporters asking him about the power issue's details that he couldn't be expected to know.

Another Grandchild

By contrast, his manner was proud and happy when he volunteered a personal announcement: His daughter-in-law, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, has told him he can expect to be a grandfather for the fourth time around Christmas. "A happy ending," said the beaming President, to his week at Geneva. Newsmen clapped and cheered the announcement.

On other topics the President: 1. Said he's not fully satisfied with the military reserve bill just passed by Congress, but gave no indication he would veto it. He said one or two items in it "strike me as being rather thoughtlessly handled," but added he hasn't studied the measure in detail yet.

2. Said he'll decide after talking with Secretary of Labor Mitchell whether to sign a bill raising the national minimum wage to $1 an hour from 75 cents. The administration asked for a 90-cent minimum but Mitchell has said he is recommending that Eisenhower accept the $1 figure.

School Aid Bills Clear Committee

HARRISBURG, July 27 (AP)—The Senate Committee on Appropriations today gave speedy approval to two bills providing funds for state aids to schools.

One of the measures, introduced only yesterday, would provide 10 million dollars in reimbursements to school districts for teachers salaries and non-resident tuition costs.

The other bill earmarks $6,711,000 for payments due municipal authorities for school rentals. Both were placed in position for debate next Monday.

Venezuela's Economic Growth Told

VENEZUELA, lifted from an agricultural economy based on coffee, the cocoa bean and cattle over a quarter of a century ago by discovery of oil, today is one of this nation's best customers and good neighbors, Philip R. Woodside, geologist, told Mount Pocono's Rotarians this week.

John F. O'Neill, Stroudsburg, chairman of the speakers committee presented Mr. Woodside, a special representative of Creole Petroleum Corp. from Caracas, Venezuela. Mr. Woodside is here on a 30-day business trip last two years in the South American country.

Thanks to oil, Venezuela has diversified its agriculture and expanded it with modern techniques and equipment, Mr. Woodside said. Oil revenues have enabled the government to pay all its national debt and to provide for such things as intensive expansion of educational system, industrial development. Population and foreign trade have grown at one of the highest rates in the world.

Certain economic stresses and strains such as high wages and salaries in industry have resulted in highest economy, the geologist explained. He noted that Venezuela traditionally has had to import much of her food supply, but she is now moving toward production levels that will change this. Agricultural colleges and experimental farms operated by the government are introducing great efficiency.

Woodside said in the industrial field Venezuela has added 108 new industries since 1954. Expanding electric generating capacity reached a million kilowatt hours last year. Cement production is self-sufficient. General and Firestone are turning out tires and Goodrich is building a plant or operating in 1956.

The nation's natural wealth, he said, remains its chief assets with exports of oil clearly destined to be the dynamic factor for years. Diamonds, gold, asbestos, bauxite, sulfur, salt and coal are in varying amounts.

Oil accounts for 90 per cent of exports, 60 per cent of the nation's revenue and 70 percent of foreign exchange used to buy goods and services, most of which comes from the U.S., Mr. Woodside said. In fact Venezuela buys more from us than she sells us, he said.

U.S. Merchandise sales to the nation amounted to $325 millions last year, with $375 millions of "invisible" exports such as banking, insurance, investments, sea and air transportation, he disclosed. This year the total of goods and services will run over $1 billion.

Harold Stiff, president of Rotary, conducted the meeting.

Godshall Heads Crusade For Convention

WARREN GODSHALL, Stroudsburg, was named yesterday to head a Monroe County crusade for the 53rd State Sabbath School Convention in Sunbury, Oct. 11 to 13.

Two thousand church school teachers and leaders are expected to join in worship, fellowship, and discovering new techniques in Christian education.

The six interest groups that will consume a large share of the delegates' time are: Children's work, youth work, adult work, administration and leadership, weekday religious education, and county and district organization.

In addition, five mass meetings will bring the great throng together, witnessing to the unity of the Christian education forces in Pennsylvania, said Mr. Godshall.

Speakers Listed

The delegates will hear such outstanding speakers as Rev. Clarence W. Cranford, Washington, D. C., pastor, Calvary Baptist Church; Dr. Harry Denman, Nashville, Tennessee, executive secretary, Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church; Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, Washington, D. C., pastor, the National Presbyterian Church; Rev. Edwin Moll, Durham, North Carolina, field representative for Lutheran World Action and the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America; and Mrs. James D. Wyker, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, chairman, General Department of United Church Women, National Council of Churches.

As county promotion chairman Mr. Godshall will distribute convention information, organize group transportation, and plan lodging and meal assignments for the local group.

The convention, sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Council of Christian Education representing 19 major denominations, will have as its theme "The Christian Hope At Work In The World."

Dr. R. G. Mowrey, Chambersburg, chairman of the state convention, said that the theme has been chosen in the conviction that "the faith we hold in the heart and explore in great conferences must be brought to bear on the separations, searches, and sufferings of the world around us and within us."

Red China Will Be Under Strong Pressure To Drop Belligerent Attitude At Geneva

By J. M. Roberts

Associated Press News Analyst

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles seem to be very shy about discussing general negotiations with Red China, but it's in the cards, just the same.

Eisenhower has gone as far as to say that it may happen.

Especially it may happen if, during the impending negotiations at Geneva for the release of captive Americans, Ambassador Alex Johnson gets any indication from his Chinese counterpart that Peiping is willing to drop the use or threat of force from its policy.

Most Consider Chiang

Nationalist China's position on Formosa is, of course, a snag. The United States cannot be put in the position of bargaining away any of its rights. And one of the rights Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek claims is to attempt a return to the mainland when he is able.

Right now, however, he is under agreement to make no break, using American-supplied weapons, unless the United States agrees. It seems easy to stretch that to cover the right of the United States to negotiate with the Reds about a cease-fire.

As a matter of reality, it is not necessary to negotiate a formal cease-fire agreement under the circumstances. A considerable easement of Far Eastern tensions could be attained as it has been attained in Europe, through a conference at which everyone announces the intention of avoiding war.

Limited Results

There is now a stalemate, though with some sporadic shooting, regarding Formosa. A conference in the near future, to be successful, would merely need to give the stalemate a little formality.

When you attempt to go beyond that you get into the field of definitive decisions which will be very difficult to make.

Diplomatic recognition and U.N. membership for Red China might be negotiated without too much difficulty if Peiping adopts an attitude similar to that now being displayed by Soviet Russia. And she will be under strong pressure to do that, for her continuance as the only proponent of belligerence among the Communist states would make her position untenable.

Peiping Must Decide

If Peiping insists, however, on making the acquisition of Formosa the price of its good behavior, then the situation would become more and more dangerous.

In the meantime, the exploratory efforts of the United States are adding greatly to the new prestige throughout the world accruing from her conduct at Geneva.

Stock Market Unsettled, Closes Mixed

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—Nervous selling in the stocks near the close of the stock market today unsettled the list and brought on a mixed close.

Lower with the steels were the radio-televisions, coppers, many chemicals, airlines, aircrafts and building materials.

Higher with oils were the motors, utilities, and railroads together with a large list of individual issues.

U. S. Steel closed unchanged yesterday and then reported second quarter profits were the largest on record while directors declared the usual dividend. Today the stock lost 1/4 at 54 1/2. Bethlehem Steel, which meets tomorrow, hit a high of 160 1/2 but backed down to a low of 158 1/2 at the finish for a loss of a point. Inland Steel on a higher dividend gained 1 1/2 at 77 1/2.

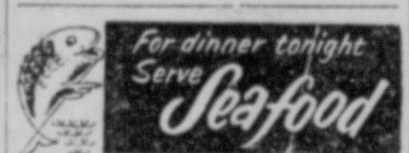

Average Unchanged

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held a mixed record at 176.80. Yesterday it fell back 20 cents from its record high level. The industrial component of the average receded 20 cents but the rails were up 40 cents and utilities gained 20 cents.

Losers held a slight edge with 499 stocks down and 437 up in the narrow list of 1,185 issues traded. Volume came to 2,170,000 shares as compared with 2,340,000 yesterday.

The American Stock Exchange and the bond market were mixed. U. S. governments over the counter were lower.

U. S. Steel Notes Record Earnings

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—United States Steel Corp., world's largest steel maker, reported today the highest half yearly and quarterly earnings in its history.

Its sales and shipments for the second quarter also broke all previous quarterly records.

Roger M. Blough, new board chairman who replaced retiring Benjamin F. Fairless on May 3, said, "It looks as if demand for steel will be strong for the rest of the year."

He said it would "be very close" as to whether the steel industry tops the record production year of 1953.

There are about 877 million head of cattle in the world, about 18 per cent more than before World War II.

Congressional Committee Considers Plight Of Millions Of Forgotten City Slickers

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—The almost forgotten city slicker had his day before Congress yesterday.

For a bill to create a new cabinet officer, in charge of the Department of Urbaniculture, got a long and earnest hearing before the House Committee on Government Operations.

Quickly, it should be pointed out that this is no laughing matter.

For City Dwellers

The author of the bill, Rep. J. Arthur Younger (R) of San Mateo, Calif., explained the word isn't in any dictionary. It's made up from "urban" plus "culture" with the idea of doing for city fellers what the Agriculture Department has done for the farmers.

Younger told the committee that back in 1862, when Abraham Lincoln set up the first Department of Agriculture, 80 per cent of the nation lived on farms.

"Today," Younger said, "we find that roughly 85 per cent of our people live in urban communities and only 15 per cent in rural or farm areas."

And yet, who looks after us city people? Nobody, that's who. And Younger thinks it's high time a cabinet officer was installed to worry full time about such citified problems as slum clearance, housing, crime, smog and civil defense.

Statesmanlike Approach

The Housing and Home Finance Agency would be moved into the Department of Urbaniculture under Younger's bill. And Albert M. Cole, a long-time member of Congress and now the housing administrator, dropped by to give his views.

Cole said that while his agency officials approved of the idea behind it all, they still didn't approve the bill.

"That's typical," agreed Cole

jovially. "It's the statesmanlike approach."

Although he thought considerable changes should be made in Younger's bill, Cole said the idea of aiding city dwellers "makes a great deal of sense."

Most Important Problem

"Probably," Cole said, "it's the most important domestic problem we face today."

Nearly every witness favored a Department of Urbaniculture, or something akin to it. But W. L. C. Wheaton of the University of Pennsylvania seemed the most enthusiastic.

Wheaton said more people live in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Los Angeles than all this nation's farm population put together.

Furthermore, he said, the congressional cards are stacked against city folk because redistricting often favors rural areas.

Wheaton Derailed

He said the discrimination against cities has reached the point that he couldn't recall a single mayor who had been named to the president's cabinet in 20 years.

Well, right off, Committee Chairman William L. Dawson (D) of Chicago remembered that Maurice Tobin had been mayor of Boston before he became secretary of labor. Someone else reminded Wheaton that Frank Murphy had been mayor of Detroit before becoming attorney general. And a voice from the audience cried out: "If it please the chair, the present secretary of interior is a former mayor." And so he is, Douglas McKay was mayor of Salem, Ore.

Back On Beam

Wheaton didn't allow this upcropping of mayors to disturb him.

On the Department of Urbaniculture, he stayed firm. "A most bill," he said.

Talk Given On Dairy Cooperative

OPERATIONS of the dairy cooperatives and artificial insemination of cattle were brought before the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

John P. Schwenk, manager of the dairy herd improvement center, Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, Allentown, was the speaker. He was presented by Clair Smith, manager of the East Stroudsburg plant of the company.

Problems of distribution and production were discussed by the speaker. The Allentown center was organized in 1934 by a small group of milk producers and has grown to 3,400. He told how the center cooperates with the members and assists them in solving their problems.

History Of Program

Mr. Schwenk gave a detailed recital of the benefits of artificial insemination and the methods pursued. This method was first carried out at Clinton, N. J., he said. A group of producers from the Lehigh Valley area visited the center and were much impressed with the results and organized the Allentown center.

The first six months the new center was in operation 300 cows were bred. This has grown steadily, the speaker said, with the result it is estimated there will be 33,000 this year. Proven bulls and carefully selected young bulls are utilized, with the latter class favored.

The Allentown center has 13 technicians who supervise the insemination when called by the farmers. Six breeds are used, headed in number by the Holsteins. Some 2,400 farms take advantage of the insemination plan, he pointed out.

Golf Match

Stroudsburg and Allentown club golfers engaged in inter-club competition at Glen Brook Country Club yesterday afternoon and last night a delegation of local members engaged in an inter-club meeting with the Bloomsbury, N. J., club.

William P. Wells, first vice president of the club, presided at yesterday's meeting. The club secretary, A. F. Everett, was surprised with the club singing "Happy Birthday."

Merle C. Ostrom was in charge of the song period with Numa J. Snyder accompanist.

Announcement was made the monthly meeting of the officers and directors will be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel next Monday at 5 p.m.

Visiting Kiwanians welcomed included Harold O. Bates, Elizabeth N. J.; Charles P. Ranere, Hammon, N. J.; and Halden C. Palmer of the Easton club. Palmer called attention to the Easton club's project to witness the performance of "Kismet" at the Lambertville Summer Theater Sept. 19. Riegelsville club is the sponsor. Rev. Daniel Nicely, of Denver, Colo., was also welcomed as a guest.

The play will be presented under the auspices of the American Children's Theatre, with an all-Broadway cast. It tells the story of the boyhood days of the great hero Davy Crockett, his home life in a small cabin in Tennessee and his school days with his young Indian friends.

Taking part will be Ma and Pa Crockett, Indian dancers and chiefs, squaws and soldiers. It is a play that will have strong appeal for parents as well as children with its exciting and humorous portrayal of the human and heroic side of the life of one of America's great frontiersmen. Cop Accepts Novel Excuse

INGERSOLL, Ont., July 27 (AP)—The woman driver talked herself out of a parking ticket.

"You see, my friends and I went golfing and I put my purse in my golf bag so it wouldn't get lost," she told Constable Donald Maitland, who was making out the ticket.

"Then, when we finished, we put the bags in the car trunk and locked it. My friend put the key in her purse and she has gone shopping, so I can't get my key to unlock the trunk to get my golf bag to get my purse to put some money in the meter."

"Lady, you couldn't have made that one up," said the officer, and tore up the ticket.

GM Reports Record Sales And Earnings

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—General Motors Corp., the world's largest manufacturing company, today announced that unprecedented volume in the second quarter of this year sent sales and earnings to new record peaks.

The big rise in business in the second quarter, coming on top of the high level of activity in the first quarter, also carried sales and earnings for the first half of the year to new highs, the company said.

The report, reflecting the current business boom that so far this year has surpassed all records, showed:

Sales Total 6½ Billions

Sales for the six months of more than 6½ billion dollars.

Net income of 661 million dollars.

A tax bill of 767 million dollars. Output of nearly 2½ million passenger cars and trucks.

President Harlow H. Curtice and chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr. noted that sales in the first half—up 29 per cent over a year ago—were substantially greater than sales for any full year prior to 1950.

Net sales for the second quarter were $3,412,000,000, compared with $2,636,000,000 in the same quarter of last year. For the first six months, sales totaled $6,513,000,000 against $5,066,000,000 in the first six months of 1954.

Net Income Up

Net income for the second quarter was 352 million dollars or $3.80 a share after provision of $92 millions for U.S. and foreign income taxes. In 1954's second quarter, net income was 236 millions or $2.66 a share.

For the first half of this year, net income was 661 million dollars or $7.23 a share after provision of 767 millions for income taxes. In the first half of last year, net was 425 millions or $4.79 a share.

GM's sales and earnings were in line with first-half reports of many other American industries. Yesterday, United States Steel Corp., the world's biggest steelmaker, announced record sales and earnings and the biggest quarterly net income in its history.

The GM report noted that defense sales continued to decline, "so these gains resulted entirely from increased sales of civilian products." It said defense sales in the first half were down 25 per cent from those of 1954's first half and accounted for 8½ per cent of total sales.

GM stockholders will meet Sept. 23 to vote on a proposal to split the company's common stock on a basis of three-for-one. The additional shares will be issued in early October.

"We don't claim there has been wrongdoing on part of the commission but we want to find out if it is carrying out all the duties it is supposed to."

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, assistant GOP floor leader, called the study committee "another fishing expedition sent without any money."

Mrs. Reibman said she felt sure House members of the study committee would consider it a public duty to serve without pay. The resolution carries no provision for compensation of members.

Three House members from districts along the upper Delaware and two persons appointed by the governor, one the attorney general, would make the investigation. The state Justice Department would direct the study. Conclusions would be reported to the next session of the General Assembly.

Under the enlargement proposal sponsored by two Democrats the commission would become a 20-man group with the addition of four legislators from each of the cooperating states.

Method Of Selection

Additional Pennsylvania members would be appointed by the president of the Senate and speaker of the House. Each would have to choose a Democrat and a Republican. Method of selection of the New Jersey lawmakers would be left to the New Jersey Legislature.

The bill would be effective immediately upon final passage but the governor of Pennsylvania would be directed to delay completing a supplemental agreement until similar legislation is passed by New Jersey.

17 Years Of Occupation Comes To Close In Austria

VIENNA, July 27 (AP)—Austria's freedom have now fallen," President Theodor Koerner told the nation.

The Germans ruled Austria for seven years. Then the four powers began their occupation. The Western Powers for several years sought to restore the nation's independence. Soviet Russia agreed to it this year.

About 5,000 American troops will leave Austria, with most of them going south within the next 30 days to reinforce the northeastern frontier of Italy.

France Ratifies Pact

The treaty giving Austria her independence came into force when France, last to ratify it, deposited the ratification papers in Moscow today.

Austrian towns and villages hoisted red-white-red flags while the colors of the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union and France were lowered.

Zones Dissolved

The country's four occupation zones are now dissolved. Vienna, ruled as a four-power city, comes back into its own. All through the cold war, Russian, American, British and French military policemen have patrolled Vienna in four-zones.

Austria is pledged to be neutral under her treaty of independence. All foreign troops must leave by Oct. 26.

Muskrat Call

TORONTO, July 27 (AP)—Calls that attract moose, wild geese and crows were old stuff to a conservation group meeting here. How about muskrats? F. L. Hall, government forester, came up with the answer: "Press the lips lightly on the back of the hand and draw the breath like a broken-up Hollywood kiss. It is most effective."

Voters Branded

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 27 (AP)—Under a new election law, Brazilians must dip a little finger in indelible ink after voting. The branding is expected to reduce repeaters.

Russia Cancels Yugoslav Debt Of 90 Million

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 27 (AP)—The Soviet Union has canceled a Yugoslav debt of 90 million dollars to make up for the trade losses Yugoslavia suffered through the 1948 break with the Cominform. President Tito announced today.

The money was owed to Russia for goods it exported to Yugoslavia before the break. After Yugoslavia was expelled from the Cominform, the Soviets and their Eastern European satellites halted all trade relations with it.

Tito said he now expects the satellites to follow Moscow's example and cancel the debts Yugoslavia owes them also.

Tito Praises Ike

The announcement was made in a speech by Tito at a celebration of the Croatian uprising at Karlovac in which he gave a general review of Yugoslavia's foreign relations.

Tito singled out President Eisenhower for praise, saying his proposal for exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspection with the Soviet Union proved that he is a "wise statesman who sincerely wishes peace."

He said comments which interpreted Russian silence on the proposal as a sign that Russia does not want peace were "malicious propaganda."

"I am convinced that the Russians wish peace just like the Americans do," he declared.

1956 Convention To Be Telecast

PITTSBURGH, July 27 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today it will sponsor over the combined radio and television facilities of Columbia Broadcasting System "complete, all-inclusive" television and radio coverage of the 1956 presidential conventions and election.

In addition, the company said it would cover through CBS the "high spots of the campaign from convention time until election day with a series of television and radio debates between the leaders of the major parties."

Westinghouse and CBS teamed up in 1962 on TV and radio coverage of the political conventions and election.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

With all the hurly-burly of this summer, the river had sort of been pushed to the background and it's about time I reported on conditions.

Of course, I expected it to be low, but I didn't expect to see it covered with hay. The first glimpse was sort of a shock, until I realized that the hay was floating on top and not growing from the bottom.

The whole Binnickill was filled with hay, whether from a watery hayride that upset or just from having activities up the river I wouldn't know.

The river is also working the islanders tell me, which is way ahead of schedule. It's usually late August before it starts "working", whatever that mysterious word is.

Well, working or not, and full of hay though it is, it's looked very good to me. Wet and cool and placid as a dream. The main new development is the air boat, John Lesone's futuristic contraption with airplane propellers above water.

Unless we get some rain pretty soon, maybe that's the only kind of propellers that will work. If it's too hot on Saturday maybe that historical caravan could wade up to Port Jervis in the river instead of using the Old Mine Road.

Miss Transue To Be Bride On Sunday

Miss Barbara J. Transue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Transue, Stroudsburg, will become the bride of Gerald P. Hinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinton, East Stroudsburg, on Sunday, July 31, at 3 p.m., at the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stroudsburg.

Rev. Frank Blatt will perform the ceremony.

Miss Transue has chosen Mrs. Richard Warren, the former Violet Warner, of Glenmoore as her matron of honor. William Laise, East Stroudsburg, will serve as best man and the ushers will be Richard Warren, Glenmoore, and Robert Gearhart, Stroudsburg.

Friends of the couple are invited to attend the ceremony at the church.

Orange Peel, Spaghetti For The Mad Hatter

Paris — A Frenchman has found a new way to serve spaghetti and dried orange peel. He makes hats out of them.

Really! The spaghetti, cooked and curled on a tulle base, looks like heavy lace. And the orange peel, glued on like shingles, might be a rough straw.

So why not use lace and straw? Well, there isn't any novelty in them, so—

Achille, who likes to be called the Mad Hatter of Paris, has got the new season's hat shows off to a scrawball start with the spaghetti bonnet. The orange peel number, besides smelling like a fruitcake, drips raisin-size diamonds over one eye.

More serious Parisian hat houses are going in for everything Eastern from Siamese topknot hats to Japanese pagodas and Chinese footstool. Vivid velvet numbers run the color range of a peacock's tail.

The Oriental influence apparently stems from the popularity of a Chinese ballet company which recently visited Paris.

Santa Chooses July To Visit Camp Easter Seal

SOMERSET, Pa., (P) — Santa Claus in July? Sound crazy? Well, it isn't.

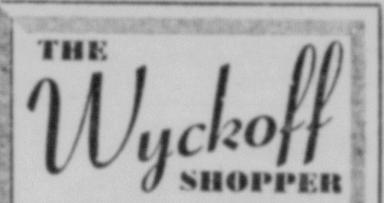

At least 108 crippled children don't think so. They celebrated Christmas on Wednesday.

It's the sixth annual Christmas party sponsored by the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and adults at Camp Easter Seal in Laurel State Park.

There was a swimming party and a pajama breakfast.

And last but not least Santa was there. He left the traditional eight reindeer at home and came in 20th century style—a jeep.

Gifts? Plenty of them. All made by the youngsters themselves at the camp's craft shop.

Our center aisle was a busy place yesterday with campers, hotel people and our customary customers flocking around to buy the gladioli which were advertised at 1.00 a dozen. A number of gentlemen carried huge stacks away, and our boss, who was standing near by, had reunions with many of them who are friends from other summers.

Betty Frantz of our display department had a busy time too, gathering up Black Watch dusters, dresses, and separates to use in one of our windows. Her boss, Fran Meredith, was an equally busy fellow, consulting with Jack LaBar of our maintenance department, and a painter, about, I imagine, some future decorating here at Wyckoff's. . . . On one of our spotlighted main aisle tables, Anna Haller was arranging a new shipment of rugs from Belgium, and enthusing over their quality and charm. They are very well made these 1.98 and 2.98 rugs of seater size. The larger one comes in pastel tones, green, rose, etc., with just one large floral arrangement at the center. The other side is rubberized against skidding. The smaller rug has an overall design and is not skid proof. Both are beautifully made and very well woven—an excellent buy, it would seem. . . . In the gift department Marion Leedom was working over table arrangement too. She was setting up a number of those brass candle scones and was being chided by the advertising department for having described them as "scroll" design, when the pattern is a definite leaf. Not that it matters, says Marion. After all, the important thing is that the customers approve them, whatever they are, and BUY. . . . Busy-ness was not confined to the first floor either. Upstairs in domestics, Hot Wyckoff joined forces with Hattie Walter and her staff to set up the White Sale which is now being advertised for the month of August. Such beautiful linens, towels, bedspreads, fringed table cloths, figured pillow cases—and all at such beautiful prices. Hot describes some of those prices as "utterly ridiculous," and he's right. Ridiculously low, that is! . . . Dottie Dunn of our merchandise office was another busy gal. Newcomers to Stroudsburg were to be feted in the Tea Room along with their Welcome Wagon hostess, and Dottie was putting the finishing touches on her plans. It sounded like fun until she asked that I drop by once again to tell a little of the store history. Now I must cram again like a kid before geometry exam. . . . As I was saying, yesterday was a very busy day at Wyckoff's. But then most of our days have been, what with the visitors renewing acquaintance or meeting Wyckoff's for the first time. It isn't just the weather that wears one down by day's end—and isn't that a good thing!

100 Articles Selected For Craft Fair

SOME 188 articles of handcraft submitted by 54 members of the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen were judged Saturday at the State Teachers College. After five hours of deliberation the judges selected approximately one hundred articles which will be displayed at the exhibit in the eighth annual fair.

This will be opened formally to the public by Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of the college at 10 a.m. Friday. The fair and exhibit will continue 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The exhibit judges were Miss Mary Malon, Binney and Smith, Philadelphia; Frans Wildenhain, School for American Craftsmen, Rochester, N. Y., and J. Allen Pawling, associate professor of art, Kutztown Teachers College.

Winners Selected
In addition to the awards for distinguished craftsmanship and special mention, there were 18 monetary awards for specific handcraft.

More than 80 craftsmen from ten chapters of the guild will display their wares at the fair which runs concurrently with the exhibit. Demonstrations by skilled craftsmen will continue throughout the fair, which is open to the public without charge.

There will be two special features on Saturday afternoon. At 2 p.m., the handweavers fashion show opens in the auditorium and at 4 p.m., a water ballet will be given in the gymnasium pool by a group of young women from Philadelphia. The latter was originally scheduled for Friday night but was postponed due to conflicts.
